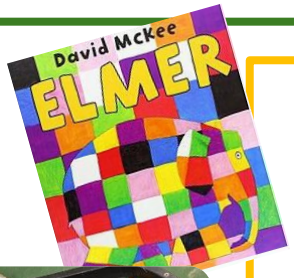
My Feelings and Colours

This week we continued to read 'The Colour Monster' and discuss more emotions we may feel at different times. We shared how we might feel sad if someone takes a toy from us, or happy when we are being picked up by mum or dad! We talked about times that we feel happy/sad/excited/tired/angry.



This week we read the story Elmer, exploring many different colours and talking about how being different can make us unique! While reading Elmer, we focused on the keywords 'same' and 'different'. We could see the grey elephants were the same and Elmer was different because of all his colours.

Rhyme of the week

If you're happy and you know it, clap your hands.

Thank you for all of your incredible support over the last half term. Please do book a parent meeting time on the 11th November so we can talk with you about how your child is getting on in Nursery. As always, if you have any queries in the meantime then please speak to Mrs Qureshi or Mrs Peet on the door.

Notices:

- We would like to thank you for a wonderful start to the school year! It has been lovely becoming familiar with your children and we are looking forward to a new half term together!

What you can do at home:

- Play! Play! And play some more! Provide opportunities to join your child in play. Watch your child play, and wait for their invitation to follow their lead.
- Talk! Talk! And talk some more! Over the half term, can you look and see what colours surround you in your environment? Talk about what you can see.
- When reading a story, encourage your child to join in with any repeated phrases. Can they add sound using body percussion? (Clapping hands, clapping knees, stomping feet)

Dates for your diary:
